ALLEGANY HEALTH NURSING AND REHABILITATION:

141 staff members, 121 residents test negative, only three tests still pending

CUMBERLAND, MD – In a welcome bit of good news regarding the coronavirus, the Allegheny County Health Department has learned that 141 staff members and 121 residents at Allegheny Health Nursing and Rehabilitation have tested negative for COVID-19. The facility tested all staff and residents. No tests came back positive and only three tests are still pending. Testing was conducted through the Maryland National Guard nursing home testing initiative.

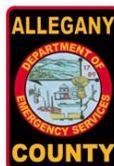

The health department also reported that one new coronavirus case was identified in a resident at Sterling Care Frostburg Village, bringing the total cases for the county to 150. That individual has not required hospitalization.
